NATURAL WONDERS: ELLE READERS COVER UP WITH THESE GENTLE MINERAL-BASED FOUNDATIONS

MASCARA: JANE IREDALE

LA makeup artist and hairstylist Leah Rial accentuates Teri Hatcher's eyes with chemical-free Jane Iredale PureLash Lengthening Mascara (above, in Jet Black). "Lashes still feel soft after you apply it," she says. "The consistency isn't too brittle or too runny."

FOUNDATION: JANE IREDALE
Jane Iredale Liquid Minerals Foundation (above in Terra, Bisque, and Maple) hydrates like a moisturizer while providing coverage. "Spheres of mineral color and hyaluronic acid are suspended in an aloe vera and lavender water gel," says Mitzi Spallas, the LA makeup artist who tends to Norah Jones. "It all mixes together when you pump the nozzle, I've never seen or felt anything quite like it."

BEAUTY TOP 5 HALL OF FAME

NATURAL WONDERS: ELLE READERS COVER UP WITH THESE GENTLE MINERAL-BASED FOUNDATIONS

Available in a range of shades "that aren't oily," Urban Decay Sunreal Mineral Concealer and Foundation.

With good-for-you ingredients such as zinc oxide, Jane Iredale Amazing Base "blends well" and "completely deters breakouts."

15 Foundation "fills away fine lines" and gives skin a "pretty sheen."

"Flora can breathe" underneath Youngblood Mineral Compact Foundation, which contains rice powder for a matte finish that "stays perfect all day."
